Our purpose in general has been to present material touching only what may be called the most important matters (persons, events, movements, institutions, and conditions) of the whole mediaeval periodNot all the documents here are out of copyright, and I claim copyright on the the specific electronic form, modernized versions of texts and any notes (this is not to prevent you using the material freely, merely to prevent others using it commercially).What is asked is that reference to the source of the material is included, and that no commercial use be made of the materialBook Condition: FairCreate a Want BookSleuth Can't remember the title or the author of a book? Our BookSleuth is specially designed for youFor instance, all of Pope Gregory I's letters are available, but in one 500 page documentAs a result there is a process called "link rot" - which means that a "broken link" is a result of someone having taken down a web pageAn effort is under way to remove bad linksIndeed the genealogy of such texts is a minor area of possible historiographical researchThe specific electronic form, and any notes and questions are copyright

Since 2000, very few links to external sites have been madeIf you teach a class and have reading guides prepared for any of the material here, I would be happy to include it with the various textsex library copy, with associated marks[At UNF] We have not tried to make a complete source-book for the period, but only to offer in usable form illustrative material which may be of service to both teacher and student in general or information coursesThe following Sourcebooks are primarily based on subsets of documents from the three main chronologically arranged collectionsWEB indicates a link to one of small number of high quality web sites which provide either more texts or an especially valuable overview

[In the Internet Medieval Sourcebook, but not the other associated sourcebooks, if there is no indication of the file's location then the text is hosted locally and the link should be workingWhile it may throw light on many other things, the teacher should be warned not to attempt to deduce from these few documents the whole history and life of the Middle A geTEXTS Since these texts come from a variety of printed materials, translators, and sources, they will vary in qualityAll Rights ReservedNo indication means that the text file is localIt may not be used in any way for profitThis site is intended for educational use
